

Writing to Heal:

Narrative Processing Group

A group that fosters a safe, supportive, and validating environment to explore through written word the complexity of one's experience, develop skills to increase self-acceptance, shift troubling life narratives, and practice the use of writing as a grounding technique in moments of distress.

For: Queer, Trans, Gender-Diverse individuals experiencing depression, anxiety, trauma, and mental health difficulties, 18 and older

Wednesdays from Sept 13th – Dec 6th 2023
3:30–5pm, Virtually – Must Commit to Weekly Meetings

This is a closed group: anyone interested must complete an intake screening prior to acceptance. Group will be billed through insurance; private pay options available.

If interested or have questions, please email narrativegroup@transhealth.org to set up an intake screening.
